

Design Council of the Denver Art Museum
The University of Colorado Denver, College of Architecture and Planning and The Consulate-General of Japan at Denver Present

Professor Kengo Kuma Lecture on Architecture

Japanese Influence From the 1960's And A Philosophical Approach for Today

Professor Kengo Kuma
Photo by The Courier

Asakusa Culture Tourist Information Center, 2012
Designed by Professor Kuma
Photo by Takeshi Yamagishi

Monday, Nov 5 2012 Noon
Sharp Auditorium in the Hamilton Building, Denver Art Museum
Free and open to the public

Followed by a reception at Mad Greens across from the Denver Art Museum

This lecture is presented in conjunction with the exhibit "Struggling Cities: From Japanese Urban Projects in the 1960s", currently on display at the University of Colorado Denver, College of Architecture and Planning. 1250 14th St., 3rd floor, Denver, Colorado 80202 Phone: (303) 556-3382

