

Samurai: Armor from the Ann and Gabriel Barbier- Muller Collection

The Denver Art Museum (DAM) presents Samurai: Armor from the Ann and Gabriel Barbier-Mueller Collection from March 6 through June 5, 2016.

The Samurai Collection of Ann and Gabriel Barbier-Mueller is one of the finest and most comprehensive collections of Japanese Samurai armor and accoutrements in the world, exploring the life, culture and pageantry of the samurai from the 12th through 19th centuries. The exhibition tells the iconic story of the samurai through 140 objects, showcasing items of folklore, religion, nature and foreign influences.

Exhibition programs are also scheduled. For more detailed information, please visit their website. (<http://denverartmuseum.org/>)

Place: Denver Art Museum

Address: 100 W 14th Ave. Pkwy, Denver, CO 80204

Phone: 720-865-5000

Date: March 6 through June 5, 2016

Hours and Admissions: Please go to their website. (<http://denverartmuseum.org/>)

This exhibit is supported by the Consulate-General of Japan in Denver