

A special lecture presentation;

JAPAN UPDATE: HOW JAPAN SEES AMERICA'S ROLE IN THE ASIA-PACIFIC will be held by the Consulate General of Japan and the Japan America Society of Colorado

on Wednesday, March 11, 2015

at 11:30 am - 13:00 pm

in the Grand Ballroom, Brown Palace Hotel, 321 17th Street, Denver

Featuring Keynote Address by Professor Toshihiro Nakayama, PhD
Keio University, Tokyo, Japan

How does Japan, our closest Asian ally, perceive the United States at the dawn of the "Asian Century"?

Why should this matter for Colorado businesses?

In a top-down society like Japan, public perceptions and political alliances matter. Japan is a massive, wealthy market for U.S. business. Good relations between the United States and Japan feed business interests on both sides of the Pacific.

Is Japan as positive about "the land of the free" as we are?

Be sure to join us on March 11th as we welcome Professor Toshihiro Nakayama during his visit to Denver from the prestigious Keio University in Tokyo.

With special welcome by Mr. Tadahiko Yamaguchi
Deputy Consul-General of Japan in Denver
